

Outreach Concern

Eliminating Barriers to Success

Outreach Concern, Inc. is the largest non-profit, school-based counseling agency in Southern California. We provide over 250 internship opportunities each year working with children and adolescents in grades K-12 experiencing social, emotional, academic, behavioral and mental health problems impacting their ability to learn and succeed in and outside a classroom environment. The children we see experience depression, anxiety, poor attention, low grades, self-destructive behavior, presenting the Outreach Concern counselor a diverse caseload highly beneficial to their ongoing development. As an Outreach Concern counselor, you will work directly with children, adolescents and families, overcoming personal barriers to support their performance and emotional well-being. For a quarter of a century, Outreach Concern has trained over 10,000 interns within 250 practicum/intern sites, providing clinically enriching opportunities to thousands of individuals, supporting their educational and professional development. Before accepting an internship with any agency or organization, we invite you to compare what Outreach Concern offers ...
